Country Club Gets Bridge At Long Last

A public works department request for an appropriation of $25,000 for construction of a pre-stressed beam foot a pre-stressed beam foot bridge over Nahanton street was among several items on the docket approved Monday night by Newton's Board of Aldermen.

Thus the so-called horse trade between the city and the Charles River Country Club became a reality.

The story behind the bridge construction proposal was this: The city acquired land for widening Nahanton street from the club at no cost. In return, it was proposed that Newton's Street Department erect the bridge so the club's golfers could travel from one part of the course to another without having to buck Nahanton street's heavy traffic Aldermen had previ-indicated that they

No Decision Yet Reached; Matter Under Advisement

Debate on the proposal that Newton's 5000 - odd dogs be restrained at all times brought 600 or more men, women and one small boy to City Hall Monday night, and for 90 minutes the articulate among them voiced their ideas on the highly controversial question in an effort to sway the Board of Aldermen, whose members will ultimately decide whether to enact a leash law or to let canines continue to enjoy the free-dom from restraint to which most of them have become accustomed.

Usually, when citizens flock to an Aldermanic meeting for a discussion of a topic that arouses their interest, the president of the Board calls for a show of hands so the members can get a pretty good idea of public sentiment. But this time there was no hand-raising. President Wendell R. Bauckman either felt that a true picture could not be had because a great many persons were out in the hall, and therefore out of sight, or he decided he could gauge public opinion the volume of applause that followed the remarks of some of the pros and some of the cons.

Bauckman, at the outset, announced that 45 minutes would be alloted to each side, with 15 minutes for the major spokesman of each, and five minutes for all others. He asked that all present be courteous and as quiet as possible so that there would be an or-derly hearing. With only a few minor exceptions, the request was heeded.

Mrs. Marjorie Edenfeld, 120 Dedham street, Newton Highlands, the petitioner, led the pro-leash faction, and George Foley, 41 Chatham street, Newton Highlands was the major speaker for the other side. Bauckman had expressed hope that no en would feel called that no one would feel called upon to fill the entire time alloted to him, and neither of them took the 15 minutes

The Aldermen's meeting was scheduled to open at 7:45, but by 7 there were at least 100 persons lined up at City Hall's front door, which was locked. Among them was a small boy, perhaps 11 or 12 years of age. When the doors were flung open at 7:45, the ground on the steps and porch

When the president an-nounced that the time had come for the opponents of the petition to be heard, the boy was the first to raise a hand signifying he had something

Political Highlights

Even though astute GOP politicos realize that President Kennedy and Senator Edward M. Kennedy probably will generate a strong Democratic tide Massachusetts next year, they believe Peabody should be ripe for political plucking 19 months from now if he continues the way he has been going.

Immediately after last November's election, it was assumed that Volpe could have the Republican gubernatorial nomination for the asking if he desired it in '64. That assumption no longer stands up.

It has been a long winter, or am I getting older than I think? At any rate, I am happy to see this beautiful, early Springtime. Let us hope it lasts unabated.

I notice that Boston has been oted an ALL AMERICAN CITY noted an ALL AMERICAN CITY in spite of the bookmaking, underground garage furor, etc. I have always felt that Boston should be not only an All American City, but "THE" All American City, what with its geographical location, port facilities, nearness to Europe, and, by no means least, its professional and intellectual resources. I hope that the up-coming TV film on the stranglings will not set the City back. We suburbanities cannot disassociate ourselves from the Metropolis and it would be a refreshing change to have no reservations in our mutual association. Of one thing we can be sure:

The Newton Graphic, Thurs., April 4, 1963 Lauds Community Council Here For Mental Health Approach

An Art Seminar group from the Newton Highlands Women's Club viewed Mona Lisa at the Metropolitan Art Museum in New York recently. The members also saw > vey which, he indicated at the annual meeting of the Newton Community Chest and Council last night (Wednesday) at Eliot Church, Newton, h a d shown that city's mental health resources to be in need of better organization.

Dr. Ryan said the survey, sponsored by the Massachu-setts Association of Mental Health, the State Department of Mental Health and United Community Services, reveal-ed that less than 10 percent of the mentally disturbed came in contact with professional psychiatric services, that only one in five of the private psyciatrists devote time to psy-chotic or extremely disturbed patients, and that fewer than half the psychotic population enters mental hospitals.

Those in need of profession psychiatric services either not avail themselves of it, or go only sporadically, Dr. Ryan said. He added that those of middle and high in-come circumstances who generally have borderline or less critical psychiatric needs seem to be the heaviest users of professional care.

He also indicated that a crash program providing more funds and facilities was un-realistic because of the existing and anticipated shortage of professional personnel, and because only a small segment of the population uses such services. As a result of the study, Dr. Ryan said, the fol-lowing conclusions were pro-posed by the staff: posed by the staff:

First, a sharing of both the wealth and of the professional

Jr. High and Upper Falls Playground were renovated last fall, but the work was done so late in the season that the areas will not be ready for use this year, Penney said.

The schools use of the various school areas and playground field was noted first. All elementary schools have teams playing on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Day Jr. High plays at Albemarle and practices at Burr Play-grounds. Warren Jr. High will play its games at Auburndale because of the reseeding on own diamond. Our La dy's High uses Cabot Park and Sacred Heart makes New-ton Centre Playground its home field. Newton South High will use Lincoln Playground and the N.S.H.S. junior var-sity team will play at Newton sity team will play at Newton Highlands. Newton Junior College will play at West Newton Common this year.

All the Little Leagues were represented at the meeting since all five city leagues each have minor and farm leagues in addition to the major leagues; they utilize every av-ailable diamond; and still have teams left over. Since the Men's Industrial and Club softball leagues use the same size diamonds, conflicts in use between softball teams and little farm and minor league teams arise each year. It was decided some adjustment on both sides must be made, and Penney said he will study the situation to make as fair an allocation of fields as possible. The Babe Ruth League and the National and American League do not start until after the school season is over in June so no conflict in field as signment exists. Some concern with the future of the Workers For BU Twilight Baseball Leagues was evidenced at the meeting.

to say. The front row benches had been reserved for persons who intended to speak—antis on the left and pros on the right, and for nearly 90 min-utes each time the young fellow advanced toward the microphone, someone from one of the front benches beat him to it. Finally, when Bauck-man announced that the alloted hour and a half was nearly up, the boy managed to get in speaking position. The next to last speaker hav-ing subsided, he announced himself as Francis DiSimone of 149 Sargent street, and then made his brief statement.

"I have a dog," he said," and he never bit anybody. He doesn't follow me to school because he has too much to do at home taking care of my little brothers and sisters. I don't think all and sisters. I don't think all dogs should be made to suf-fer because of a few." And that was all. President Bauckman banged the gavel, declared the hearing at an end, and then express-ed wonder that so many regarded the dog leash ques-tion as so important. We'd rather have you come here at budget time," he said. "Last week we voted a rec-ord $24,484,117 city budget, but at this time there wasn't a single person here."

That remark was addressed to retreating backs as the 600 or so headed for the stairs. There was a ripple of laughter at one point in the hear-ing, but the aldermanic president made no effort to smother it. He admitted that he had asked for it.

J. Ellis Bowen, a lifelong Newton resident, said he had checked with the State Department of Public Health and found that the last case of death from rabies was in 1935, and that the culprit was not a dog, but a bat. Many cases, among them the overturning of trash barrels and digging up well-cared-for lawns.

She read from a letter

She read from a letter sent to her by the principal of the Claflin School, de-scribing the acts of dogs in the vicinity of Cabot Park who knocked over young-sters of kindergarten and first-grade age, and snatch-ed away their lunches and school papers.

Another letter was from the Newton High School principal who had written to parents, advising them that the animal problem was getting worse.

Mrs. Edenfeld said that her phone had been ringing con-SPEAKS HER MIND

George B. Foley, who led off the opposition's testimony questioned whether the dog situation here was an emergency that called for action as drastic as was proposed. said the hysteria was responsible for most of the biting complaints, and declared that the so-called dog bites were merely scratches in most in-stances, or a result of the dog's having to protect itself from molestation.

"Very few bites are serious," he said, and declared that under existing laws vi-cious dogs can be restrained. He added that in many instances parents pass along to their children their own fear of dogs.

Enactment of the leash law would create neighborhood feuds, he maintained, as an owner who has had to bail a dog out of the pound would imagine he knew where the complaint that put it there originated.

Women Voters Back Mayor In Library Survey

The League of Women Voters of Newton has made known its support of the mayor's proposal to authorize funds for a professional li-brary survey. In letters to the aldermen, the league has expressed itself through its president, Mrs. Leopold Beckwith, as follows:

"The mayor's proposal for a library survey will soon be put before you. The League of Women Voters of Newton be lieves that a professionally conducted survey is an essential instrument for affective tial instrument for effective library planning. Such a survey, made by professional people, would compile information and make recommendations for your considerations.

"This is an appropriate time for an objective study of our library facilities. The problem that the toll road is presenting and the shift in our expanding population make it evident that the pattern of li-brary use needs close exam-ination. We hope that more effective spending of our li-brary budget might result from this survey.

A Bad Bill

It is difficult to concieve of any proposed law since last fall's election left the which would do more harm to the industrial climate Republican party in a sham and the general prosperity of Massachusetts than the so-called strike pay bil which has been approved by the State Senate and is now awaiting consideration by line his successor. He continued the state Senate and is now awaiting consideration by line his successor. the House of Representatives.

Those Solons who voted for the measure come pretty close to being guilty of gross irresponsibility.

Ex · Repr Some of them privately concede that it's a bad bill but lamely explain that they were strongly pressured by labor leaders to support it.

W. Perry, GOP nominee for Lieutenant Governor last fall, was the first choice for the compulsory since an employer would be assessed for the unemployment benefits if he refused to arbitrate, while the strikers would not receive the jobless payments if their leaders declined to arbitrate.

The loosely drawn measure contains no definition of a dispute. Employers presumably would be forced to pay the unemployment benefits if they were hit by a wildcat strike or even a jurisdictional dispute between

Under the terms of the bill a striking worker would get up to a maximum of $45 per week plus $6 for each dependent.

A law now on the books in Massachusetts provides for the payment of unemployment compensation to workers who are not directly involved in a strike but are idled by one. In some ways that is a more liberal law than the one in either Rhode Island or New York.

There is little doubt that the passage of the new strike benefit bill would have a tendency to encourage and prolong strikes, would greatly damage the indusclimate in Massachusetts and discourage firms from locating here. Nineteen Senators bowed to labor pressure and voted for a poor bili. Now some of them are hoping that the members of the House will bail them out by defeating the measure.

What it apparently adds up to is that Riley does not intend to be replaced as Registrar without a fight. Riley seems to be in a position where he has nothing to lose by battling Peabody and resisting the Governor's efforts to ease him out.

Peabody already has been hurt politically as a result of cooking up a deal when he first sought to shift Riley from the Registry to the Parole Board, leaving himself open to a damaging attack by Governor's Councillor Margaret C. Heckler, whose vote blocked

More than 2,000 children die each year of leukemia - cancer of the blood-forming tissues. Important findings in research laboratories helped extend this child's life — and the lives of other little victims -by many precious months. Research scientists now see evidence that a virus may cause leukemia and this might bring closer the development of a way to prevent the disease. Research will save children in the future. But research is expensive. Give some money. Please. It's for them.

At Newton Savings, we like helping people ... and these are some of the people who've helped thousands of customers become homeowners.

They know how important it is to you to have personal service . . . sound advice . financing you can live with during the years.

They're "local" people, interested in seeing that each of you who comes to us for home financing gets the best of service at this local bank.

These people are always ready to discuss your plans for home ownership ... and each of them invites you to drop in at any stage of your home-buying plans. With them, it's more than a job ... it's an opportunity to help you make a big investment in happiness for your family.

Season Apr. 13 Saddle Hill Country Club will beat the BAA Marathon to the starting line when it opens for its second season Saturday, April 13. 7000-vard 18-hole, This course, located just a short distance from the starting line of the famed marathan in historic Hopkinton, boasts a PGA pproved par 72 layout which has already drawn the praise of local and nationally prominent professionals as well as many enthusiastic amateurs since it opened for the first time in 1962.

This year, from the start the full 18-hole course will be playable, and is in excellent condition. The groundskeep-ing crew has begun an expan-sive turf-building program which includes not only the greens but all fairways on the lengthy course as well. It will be a tremendous improvement over last year's season when playing conditions were excellent even then for a new

The Board of Alderman took a long look at their city's future during Monday night's "marathon" session at City Hall, and along towards midnight took action calculated to ready Newton for a rapidly approaching transition from a city exclusively of the garden type to a community whose business areas will undergo marked changes, with office, commercial and residential structures expanding upward, numerically and in space

Given unanimous approval

One ordinance involved parking requirements for certain buildings. It called for a new set of rules where-by, except in Residence F and Limited Manufacturing Districts, no building or structure shall be replaced or enlarged unless there is provided off-street automo-bile parking facilities with the following conditions:

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Will the members of the Republican State Committee follow or repudiate the top leaders of their own party when they assemble next Monday night to elect a new chairman to succeed the retiring Philip

That is the over-shadowing question in the battle for the GOP State chairmanship.

Opposing contenders in the fight for the right to serve as head of the Republican State Committee are Assistant Attorney General Donald W. Whitehead and Frederic C. Dumaine, Jr., former president of the New Haven Railroad.

Whitehead is being backed by Senator Leverett Saltonstall, Attorney General Edward W. Brooke and former Governor John A. Volpe.

Surplus Fund Is Agency In Stalling Hike

Newton's tax rate this year will be 60 cents lower than in 1962.

It is the first reduction in the city's tax rate in exactly a decade.

The rate was set at $66.60 yesterday by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and Chairman Edward A. Fahey of the Board of Assessors.

Last year's rate was $67.20.

The 60-cent cut in the tax rate was made possible when the members of the Board of Aldermen at their meeting on Monday night approved a recommendation by Fahey that $1,100,000 be taken from the city's surplus fund to re-duce the amount which would have to be raised in this year's tax levy,

Political Highlights

Dumaine has the support of a few lesser figures in the GOP.

Whitehead is expected to win after a two-fisted

But if Dumaine should pull an upset and defeat Whitehead, it would cause a wide-open split between the ranking Republican leaders and the GOP's official State organization.

Some of the more touchy State Committee members are annoyed because Brooke and Saltonstall publicly endorsed Whitehead and urged his election. They feel that makes them look something like rubber stamps. This is somewhat ironic since one of the charges which has been levelled at the Bay State's GOP is that it has lacked any real leadership. Now Brooke, especially, and Saltonstall, perhaps to a lesser degree, are endeavoring to provide some leadership and are being criticized for their efforts. With Saltonstall spending weren't consulted or given an opportunity to express their

Editor The Newton Graphic:

Sir:

The tumult and the shout ing dies! The recent Monday night bitter war of words between the embattled doglovers and their equally ran-corous opponents is over, though the heartburnings and the vituperation will go But impartial observers at least have learned two facts which stand out from all the wrangling:

(1) A large percentage of residents of Newton are being unreasonably sub-jected to an unbearable nuisance and are justifiably in-censed by it;

both sides is currently possible. No one can logically deny, however, that the impasse must eventually be solved. Newton cannot continue to be forever a paradise for wandering hounds to the permanent discomfort, annoyance and even occasional injury of its pedestrians, children and gar-

Yet the solution is so very obvious and simple! The city fathers should take their courage in their hands and recognize the rights of both sides by a compromise measure which would embrace two principles: (1) The doglovers, having been traditionally pro-tected from earlier days, must not now have that protection abruptly removed; and (2) Newton must EVENTUALLY terminate this constant source of irritation and injury to a large part of its poulation.

Just how? Give the doglovers 5, 10, or 15 years to mend their selfish ways. Let an ordinance be passed now, requirwell-fenced enclosures. If this means expense for the dogmeans expense for the dog-lovers they will have plenty of time to "save up" for it! Walking the pets on leash would, of course, be permit-ted at any time; a leash can be purchased for 15 cents.

In 5, 10, or 15 years all of the presently owned pets will have passed on into dogheaven. ## PTA Endorses Mental Health Children's Clinic

A meeting to acquaint New ton citizens with the work of Action for Mental Health in Children, Inc., was held by the Newton PTA Council in the home of Mrs. Arthur Friedman, 106 Annaway Rd., Waban, last night, Apr. 17, at 8 p.m.

Efforts of that organization to establish a pre-school and child guidance clinic here were endorsed unanimously by the Council at a recent meeting.

Kenneth Huberman, acting chairman of Mental Health for Children, gave the group an explanation of the need for such a clinic.

The Council's newly formed Health Committee has as a member Professor John P. Alevizos of Boston University's College of Business Administration. As chairman of the Housing Committee, the professor's immediate aim is to acquire property to house the clinic. He would appreciate information on available

NEW BANK BUILDING — Artist's drawing of new bank building of the Chestnut Hill Co-operative Bank in Brookline to be located on Route 9 opposite the Chestnut Hill Shopping Center.

New Building For Bank To Be At Route 9 Site

The Chestnut Hill Co-operative Bank in Brookline an-nounces the commencement of construction this week of a new bank building to be lo-cated on Route 9 opposite the Chestnut Hill Shopping Center.

The executive officer of the bank, Stanley Gruber, advises that the general contract has been awarded to Scott Mc-Neilly and Son of Brookline. The architect, William Cann, St. Louis, Missouri, and Bank Building & Equipment Corpor ation of America, national-known specialists, acting as consultant and bank designer have both created a building and interior of unusual contemporary design.

Customer convenience will be the keynote of the new quarters. A drive-up window, ample parking facilities and the added feature of a section of the interior devoted to after-hour banking will enable the bank to improve the quality of its services to the pub-

Owners Must Be Held Responsible For Pets

A compromise will be worked out by the Board Aldermen in the bitter controversy over a petition seeking the enactment of a dog leash law to prevent canines from roaming at large in Newton, The Graphic

But action on the matter probably will not be taken until some time in June as the city fathers deliberate on possible steps to prevent dogs from molesting children on streets and in schoolyards and playgrounds.

Two executive meetings have been scheduled by the Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee to consider various aspects of the problem and how best

However, substantial senti-

This would mean that a dog on public streets would have to be under the control of his owner at all times although not necessarily on a leash. A trained and obedient dog could walk or run unleashed if he was under the control of his master.

A second possibility being considered is the appointment of a full-time dog officer who would pick up stray and un-licensed dogs and force owners to restrain dogs which violate existing ordinances.

A law now on the books provides that a dog which disturbs the peace and quiet of any individual by howling, barking, biting or in any other manner, may be ordered restrained by its owner.

Dogs which molest or knock down children can be ordered restrained under the present regulations, it was pointed his duties have not included picking up stray and un-licensed dogs or policing un-ruly canines which disturb the peace and quiet of residents of the city.

One Alderman predicted

this week that some action will be taken to force owners to restrain "nuisance dogs."

"This is a problem we can't sweep under the rug," he asserted.

"Owners of dogs must accept the responsibility for the actions of their pets.

"Those owners who do not prevent their dogs from molesting children in such places as schoolyards cer-tainly should be required to restrain the animals.

"What we must do, in my opinion, is find some effective way of controlling dogs so they don't disturb or molest either children or adults," he

Persons who let their dogs out to roam the streets all day were sharply criticized by Aldermen who declared that these animal-owners are responsible for the problem existing in Newton.

At one time it was decided that in adhering to the letter of the law in matters of this kind the committee was slighting the mayor, the chairman said, and so the words "through the mayor" had been added by the clerk, so that recommendations un-der the charter section would arrive before the Board of Aldermen as if they were sent through the mayor.

"This, Freedman explained, "resulted in a stalemate. When the committee made a recommendation, both the Board of Aldermen and the mayor could say, in effect, 'this is not my move'."

Freedman suggested that the School Committee ask Matt B. Jones, city solicitor, for an opinion on the proper procedure by which the com-mittee could get action on recommendations. He remarked that under the Charter, the Aldermen could not appropri-

Catholic Suburban League has been mostly good to date, what with Sacred Heart's Nazzaro pitching a no-hitter against St. Pats of Watertown last Thursday, and Tommy Murphy tossing a one-hitter Monday against St. Clements. The school has now won its ast four league games.

record locally was the defeat of Our Lady's by St. Mary's High of Brookline Monday. Our Lady's had posted its second league win with a vic-tory over Bishop Fenwick last Thursday, but the streak ended with the Brookline team's 7-0 victory.

The Sacred Heart team is fortunate so far in having moundsmen who are mighty stingy with base hits.
